Help FODAC Make a Difference!

Every year - and every day - FODAC makes a difference in the lives of people with disabilities - as it collects and refurbishes home medical equipment. FODAC's footprint is both local here in Atlanta and global - as it responds to equipment needs for daily life and in emergency situations like earthquakes, hurricanes, and conflicts.

Every August, the DeKalb Rotary Council joins forces with FODAC for a Home Medical Equipment Drive. This year, DeKalb Rotarians will gather on August 9 at the 57th Fighter Squadron Restaurant, then move out in teams to collect equipment in surrounding communities. Here's how you can help:

- Plan to join our Dunwoody team for the day - from 9 AM to 1 PM
- Let Dave Burr know if you have any medical equipment to donate - things like wheelchairs, bathroom aids, walkers/rollers, hospital beds, scooters, pediatric equipment, adaptive vans or power chairs, and we can help you schedule pick-up.
- Let your neighbors and friends know we can pick up any equipment they have to donate.

Let Dave know now if you'd like to volunteer or make a donation!

The Man Behind the Four-Way Test

For members of Rotary, The Four-Way Test immediately brings to mind the foundational principles of our organization. While many are familiar with this ethical guide, fewer may know the remarkable story of the man behind it - Herbert J. Taylor - and his deep connection to Rotary.

Born in 1905, the same year Rotary was founded, Taylor's path intertwined with the organization early on. He joined the Rotary Club of Chicago in 1925, just two decades after its inception. It was during a challenging period, the Great Depression, that Taylor's leadership and innovative spirit truly shone. In 1932, he took the helm of the Club Aluminum Products Company, guiding it through bankruptcy to become a very successful organization. Faced with complex and often unworkable existing ethical codes, he sought a simpler, more practical framework. The result was "The Four-Way Test," a mere 24 words that would go on to shape ethical conduct far beyond his company. [more]
